

"Damn Right"

Damn right I loved you
Oh, I had from the start
From the moment I saw you from across the smokey bar
You were keeping the beat oh so steady and so true
And I prayed for the moment that I could belong to you
And when that day came you were damaged, so was I
You had your suspicions but I swore I didn't lie
We tried to push through it, but I pushed you 'til you broke
I crumbled in the drive, kept my tears back 'til I choked

Damn right I'm angry
I gave you what I could
You never asked for more and what I offered wasn't good enough
To thrill you or to make you stick around
So, I'm hiding out in every corner of those town
So no one can see the cuts I've made on my own hands
From punching out the walls, I couldn't make you understand
Quite who I was or even what I was about
I came sure to love you
You, you were in doubt

I could love you better
I just can't read your mind
Seventh year could be the winner
Give it one more try
One more time
One last night

Damn right I'll be jealous
'Cause she'll have you to herself
You already love her though you haven't met her yet
But you're sure that she's out there and you're gonna find her soon
She'll be better for you than I could ever be to you
But, oh, you never asked if I'd quit the road to make a home
Or to have your little babies
Just assumed I'd say no
So, I won't send you an invitation for the shower in the fall
If he grows up just like you, honey, I'll know who to call

"Creatures"

Oh, isn't it strange

Isn't it strange how the night'll change ya

Who is this creature with fangs showing
He's the one I was the worse for knowing
He sucked me dry of all the blood I could provide
But I recall how gentle he looked in the light

Oh, isn't it strange
Isn't it strange how the night'll change ya
Oh, isn't it strange
Isn't it strange how the night'll change ya

Who am I to be playing with this fire
I am strong, surely I can overcome this desire
See, I have known better even from the start
Oh, but he's so appealing in the dark

Oh, isn't it strange
Isn't it strange how the night'll change ya
Oh, isn't it strange
Isn't it strange how the night'll change ya

It seems we have been excused from all our poor decisions
By the fullness of the moon or a planet changing direction
But I am not amused

Oh, isn't it strange
Isn't it strange how the night'll change ya
Oh, isn't it strange
Isn't it strange how the night'll change ya
Oh, isn't it strange
Isn't it strange how the night'll change ya
Oh, isn't it strange
Isn't it strange how the night'll change ya

"Depressive State"

In a depressive state
How long will I feel this way
Is it forever, in my mind prisoner
Will I be okay
Will I ever be okay
And not someone that everyone hates
Will I ever be okay

I'm locking all the doors to my house
Lights off
No need to ever come around
You can take my number off your fridge
You'll never need it
Never need it
Not even to be saved for a rainy day
Oh, if I were you I'd forget I ever knew my name
Now you wanna call and say you're sorry
But you're not sure what for
Save your apologies
I can't take it anymore

In a depressive state
How long will I feel this way
Is it forever, in my mind prisoner
Will I be okay
Will I ever be okay
And not someone that everyone hates
Will I ever be okay

Who knows
Chicken or egg
I could've sworn I was happy before you left
I guess I could have been a bumme the whole time

In a depressive state
How long will I feel this way
Is it forever, in my mind prisoner
Will I be okay
Will I ever be okay
And not someone that everyone hates
Will I ever be okay

Will I ever be oh
Ah ah
Ah ah
Ah ah oh

"Catch It Now"

Many a day I spent hiding underneath my sheets
Praying the light could find me still
Just a glimpse of the world that was outside my bed

Oh, it seemed to work so well
But me, I never fit and I didn't try
No, I just quit and I taught myself to fake a smile
But, oh, true joy it came when I looked through my windowpane and saw
It ain't been raining for a while

So, I ain't waiting for it
Gonna go catch it now
I've been waiting for so long
For someone to show me how
So, I'm gonna go catch it now

Many a year I spent turning my back on what I know in my heart to be right
Maybe it was love, maybe it was fear, maybe it was something worse, my dear
Maybe I was just too tired to fight
Though it might seem frightening if I fall in love I won't tread lightly
No, not anymore, I'm gonna jump right in
I may not live a righteous way
But I'll try to never hide my soul away from anyone ever again

See, I ain't waiting for it
Gonna go catch it now
I've been waiting for so long
For someone to show me how
So, I'm gonna go catch it now

All I saw was all of me
Scattered 'round in piles of ashes on my old streets
I saw who I was, where I've been
Who I am, and who I'm wanting to be

So, I ain't waiting for it
Gonna go catch it now
I've been waiting for so long
For someone to show me how
So, I'm gonna go catch it now

"Red Rescue"

There was a darkness in that house
I felt it chill my bones
Saw your mother at the kitchen table
Just sitting there, arms crossed
I did a line

I did a line to make it through the night
I did a line
I did a line to suppress my appetite

She offered us what she had to eat
Guess she'd been holding on to all of those holiday meats
I smelled the milk a-spoling from the 'fridgeator
Pulled a long, black hair off my plate
Said baby let's get out of here

I'm a-gonna save you
I'm a-gonna save you
Red rescue
Red rescue
I'm a-gonna save you
I'm a-gonna save you
Red rescue
Red Rescue
Oooo

The walls were colored all like blood
I never looked, but I swear
There must've been a dungeon
I saw your brother there
Sleeping on the couch
Don't think he's moved since
Don't think he'll ever get out

I'm a-gonna save you
I'm a-gonna save you
Red rescue
Red rescue
I'm a-gonna save you
I'm a-gonna save you
Red rescue
Red Rescue
I'm a-gonna save you
I'm a-gonna save you
Red rescue
Red rescue
I'm a-gonna save you
I'm a-gonna save you
Oooo

Oooo

Oooo

There is a darkness in our house
I felt it chill my bones
The second that I carried you
Wedding dress, over the threshold
You told a lie
You told a lie that was easy for me to believe
All that you said was
It's not as bad as it seems
But it was, baby

How'm I gonna save you
How'm I gonna save you
Red rescue
Red rescue
How'm I gonna save you
How'm I gonna save you
When that darkness lives in you, too
How'm I gonna save you
How'm I gonna save you
Red rescue, red rescue
How'm I gonna save you
How'm I gonna save you

Oooo

Oooo

Oooo

Oooo

“Fake”

I'm a fake
You're starting to notice
Don't do what I say
Can't keep a promise
You know
You know

I'm a liar
You figured it out
Started a fire
I couldn't drown

So, I'll go
I'll go

But I would've loved you honey
If you would have believed in me
I would change for something good
I think I could

I was lonely
He seemed to care
Wasn't ready
He was already there
So it goes
So it goes

I'm impatient
You're starting to see
Give up easy
You're starting to hate me
I know
I know

But I would've loved you honey
If you would have believed in me
I would change for something good
I think I could
I think I could

I think I could
I think I could
I think I could (I would've loved you, honey)
I think I could (I would've loved you, honey)
I think I could (I would've loved you, honey)
I think I could

"Snow White Knuckles"

Well, I never thought I'd find God here
Full of nicotine and caffeine, shaking with fear
Just praying for another day to stay in the clear
I never thought I'd find God here

I never thought I'd draw a sober breath
I always thought I'd be a wreck

Always figured I'd have nothing left
Well, I never thought I'd draw a sober breath

But I gave up the cocaine, gave up the gin
Freed myself of the hell I's in
Asked the Lord to keep me clean again
And the spirit came and picked me up
Kissed me on the cheek and wished me luck
Told me I could call him a good friend
My good friend

Well, I never thought that I'd move on
Oh, but I'm getting used to sleeping alone
Just one flashlight and the book of John
Well, I never thought that I'd move on

But I gave up the heartbreak, gave up the man
Freed myself of the hell I's in
Asked the Lord to let me love again
And the spirit came and picked me up
Kissed me on the cheek and wished me luck
Told me I could call him a good friend
My good friend

Well, I never thought I could be free
After all those nights in the D.O.C
I'm thankful God's forgiven me
'Cause I never thought I could be free

But I gave up the cocaine, gave up the gin
Freed myself of the hell I's in
Asked the Lord to keep me clean again
And the spirit came and picked me up
Kissed me on the cheek and wished me luck
Told me I could call him a good friend
My good friend
